The charge of fraudulent proceedings ngainst Ferdinand de Lesseps, Charles de Lesseps, Henry Cottu and Marius Fontane was held to be proved. On this point the judgment referred to the company's methods in issuing loans, the mendacious official bulletins and the persistent puffing done by the press at the instance of the directors. These practices, the judgment stated, when the directors, had been connived at by them. Ferdinand de Lesseps, aided and abetted by his son Charles, M. Cottu and M. Fontane, had persistently concealed the operations of the of the canal company in order that the quotations of shares might not be affected

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Feb. II.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of irade says: Two important events, the defeat of anti-silver bill legislation in the Senate and House and the concerted deposit of gold by New York banks in the treasury for legal tenders, have directly opposing but powerful influence upon the markets, and it is yet too early to determine what the net result may be. Speculative markets have been quite irregular. The anti-option bill still alarms some, while the vote in the House leads others to believe it will not become a law. Pork products show greater strength and have further advanced, supplies of hogs being very small. Coffee has been strong, advancing a quarter with moderate sales. Wheat has risen 142c. Cotton declined 3-30c. Never has there been a more phenomenally salisfactory season for textile manufactures or goods. Exports are improving a little, but the outgo of $1,000,000 in gold expected is not due to trade balances. If the tentative action of strong banks does not check the movement, further measures by the clearing houses are contemplated for prevention of disturbance. The treasury has not been losing gold, and the soundest men feel that the treasury and the banks operating to harmony should be abundantly able to meet difficulties until the new administration makes known its policy. The business failures occurring during the last seven days number 355. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 25c.

Canadian Annexation Felling Growing.

Montreal special: The consideration of Canadian annexation premeates the masses, as well as the official upper crust. Now the dominion trades and labor congress has issued a circular to all labor organizations throughout Canada requesting them to discuss and vote on the following questions and submit the result to the session of the congress which will be held here next September: The maintenance of Canada's present colonial status; imperial federation; Canadian independence, and political union with the United and political union with the United
